Natural Church Development

German church researcher Christian Schwartz has studied church growth around the world. His research project is the most extensive, statistically valid worldwide search ever conducted.

The research concludes what many leaders have known intuitively – that healthy churches are growing churches, making more and better disciples in loving obedience to God.

Through Natural Church Development, you will gain a greater understanding of how God wants the church to grow. You will learn how to release the growth potential within your church.

Why do we have such a hard time with church growth?

A parable of modern churches is illustrated by the wagon, hauling perfectly good round wheels, but being equipped with square wheels. The important thing is to take those round wheels from the bed of the wagon and mount them where they belong, according to God's plan.
